

Small text header or navigation links.

A vertical sidebar containing several small images and text blocks, likely representing a navigation menu or a list of related products. It includes a logo at the top, followed by several small square images, and a larger image at the bottom showing a person's face.